

Congratulations to Dr. Sanda Sun for winning the E. Ann Nalley Western Region Award for Volunteer Service to the American Chemical Society!

Sanda Sun is a food research chemist and teaches general and organic chemistry at Irvine Valley College. After completing her undergraduate and graduate studies at Boston University and Hahnemann Medical College, she relocated to southern California, where she worked as a research chemist for ConAgra Foods.

Sanda represents Orange County as an ACS councilor since 2008. She is an active committee member of ACS Community Activities, Volunteer Engagement and Recognition, ACS Public Relations and Communications, Chemistry Ambassadors and OCACS Education Committee. Sanda coordinates annual High School Chemistry Examinations and Chemists Celebrate Earth Day programs. She is an evaluation team leader for ACS ChemLuminary judging team for National Chemistry Week, one of the authors of articles for ACS Celebrating Chemistry, and Awards Chair for Western Regional Meeting 2015.

Join us Saturday, November 7 from 6:00-9:00PM at Stone World Gardens & Bistro to celebrate her commitment to volunteerism with the American Chemical Society.
